PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION

Athletic , projectable frame, eyeball 6'4 175 (listed 6'3 170). Narrow upper half with strong shoulders and chest. Young strength to frame as he ages into his pro body.

REPORT

Prep RHS with a high quality 3-pitch mix. He's a true pro on the mound, ice cold. From the first pitch until he was taken showing confidence to expand the zone and trust the stuff. Body is good but needs to fill out a touch more, will likely Fluidity in the on mound operation. More velo and polish with the breaking ball will come as he matures into a pro a issue. FB, up to 94, mostly working in the low 90s (90-93, 89-91 as he faded but held that). He has the ability to pound t the best from the prep side this year. SL flash STR AVG bite and AVG depth, but never at the same time. Often lands some presence on the mound. Go to work kind of demeanor, with an attack approach. Used the FB in all spots and was never establish dominance. Will need to see how he responds vs better hitters when he gets hit around. All 3 pitches will get There is long-term upside here is to be a mid rotation RHS for a big league team. There's a lot to like here but it will be determine how much he wants it.

DRAFT OUTLOOK*YEAR: 2023

Number of scouts who were in attendance including a handful of regional X-Checkers and at least 1 National X-Checker. If he is in the 3-5th Round looking at a bonus in the $800k-1m ballpark. He is very firmly a ready arm draft wise, doesn't really environment for long term development in pro ball.

Notes

Not an emotional presence on the mound. Cool and collected. Ceiling is a high end MLB 3 starter
